DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the phase lock loop, plurality of stripes, operational amplifier and input/output pad must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.
2. There is a figure that is not labeled located on top of Figure 14. Please label it.
3. Suitable descriptive legends may be used, where necessary for understanding of the drawing, subject to approval by the office. They should contain as few words as possible. See MPEP 608.02; 37 CFR 184(o).

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 2819

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "relatively short length" in claim 2 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "short length" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim 4 is rejected in the same manner as claim 2 for "the stripes are relatively short".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sidiropoulos et al. (U. S. PAT. 6,573,779).

In claim 1, Sidiropoulos et al. teaches all claimed features in Figs. 3 and 4, a CMOS circuit comprising: a first gate reference voltage (37); a first bias current source ( $I_{bias}$ ); and a device ( $M_{bs1}$ ) having its gate coupled to the first gate reference voltage (37), the device coupled in series with the first bias current source and having a gate size and structure to enhance (remain in saturation in spite of PVT; col. 6, line 3) its sensitivity to process, voltage and temperature variations thereby compensating the first bias current source for same.

7. Claims 3 and 5-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
